

Because milestones don't happen every day.

Whether it's been 5 or 150 years, anniversaries are your opportunity to show customers, employees, and others that your company is here to stay.

With a custom anniversary calendar, you can remind customers of your company's solid history and promising future every day of the year.

Ideas to get you started:

- Feature historical photographs.
- Include a timeline of company events/milestones.
- Include a letter from the president/ CEO on the future of the company.
- Feature historical products/innovations.
- List products/services/locations on the inside back cover.

Designing Your Calendar:

- Our creative services department offers complete graphic design and copywriting services to help you create a unique and effective anniversary calendar.
- We can provide image scanning (from your original negatives or slides) for an additional cost per image.

Producing Your Calendar:

- Once we receive all your artwork we'll create a pre-production proof, which takes approximately 8 business days.
- Next, we'll send the proof to you for your approval.
- After you approve and return the proof to us, we'll move your calendar into production. The production of your calendar will take approximately 11 business days.
- We have several options for shipping your calendars:
 - Ship to one location.
 - Ship to multiple branch/office locations.
 - Mail to individual customers in plain or gift envelopes.
